Telegrams

(By Havas Agency)

Rio de Janeiro, March 13th.—The Jornal de Comercio announces that a political meeting has taken place in which a large number of Senators, Deputies and pressmen were present. After a warm discussion, it was resolved to publish a manifesto protesting against the politics of the Government, and promising to use their best efforts to procure the definite establishment of a true Republic.

TRIUMPH OF HONESTY.

The success of the Patriotic Loan is a new epoch in the Argentine Republic, for it marks the first occasion on which public opinion has made itself felt in opposition to the Government. The programme of President Pellegrini for curing the crisis was the issue of 100 million "metallic notes" and the declaration of Curso Forzoso. Public sentiment scouted the idea of His Excellency, and declared that Buenos Ayres was able and willing to save herself. An appeal was made to the commercial houses, and notwithstanding the prevalent depression the response was prompt, unanimous and decisive. The commercial public of Buenos Ayres has proclaimed the following dogmas—

1.—We want no more issues of paper money.

2.—Curso Forzoso is the greatest curse of all.

There was a time, hardly a year ago, when the Argentine Government would have paid no heed to the wishes or sentiments of the public. We should not have been consulted on this subject; the official organ would have simply announced that a new issue for 100 to 200 millions was authorized by His Excellency in order to check the crisis.

"Nous avons changé tout cela." The Government that hereafter attempts to carry matters with a high hand will be compelled either to declare a Dictatorship or to succumb. Buenos Ayres has borne repeated issues of shinplasters almost without a murmur, but we have now reached the limits of human patience. President Pellegrini has perspicacity enough to see the new turn of events, and sufficient wisdom to consent to the popular will.

In the carrying out of the Patriotic Loan the foreign banks have borne a prominent part; they initiated the movement, and to them in a great measure is due its success. Our colleague, the Prensa, is moreover entitled to the thanks of all honest men, for having labored so strenuously in the good cause.

It is gratifying to think that the united efforts of so many friends of the Republic have not been in vain. Had Pres. Pellegrini been permitted to carry out his Curso Forzoso we should have had to address him with Othello:

"Do deeds to make Heaven weep,
All earth amazed;
For never canst thou to damnation add
Greater than this."

ARGENTINE RAILWAYS.

Mr. Consul Bridgett, has furnished the Foreign Office with an interesting report on the railways of the Republic. We condense it as follows.

The railway system is making a rapid extension, and with the exception of a short line in Santa Fe is entirely the result of British capital and enterprise. In no country in the world can railways be made with such facility. They run over a level plain, without rivers of any importance to cross; there are one or two exceptions in the Andine region.

The total capital employed is 250 millions, nominally 50 millions sterling, 13 lines being worked at a profit, and 7 at a loss. In regard to the latter the Government had to pay last year in guarantees a sum of £546,000 sterling. The loss on the Pacific line was caused by floods, which stopped traffic for some months. That on the Great Western by an excessive reduction of tariff.

The mileage was as follows:—

	Miles. 1886.	Miles. 1889.
Open to traffic...	3,160	5,020
In construction	2,100	6,010

Moreover there are 4,800 miles of proposed lines being surveyed, irrespective of numerous lines for which the concessions have been cancelled by Congress.

All the existing lines are of steel rails except the Central Northern which is of iron. This line has recently been sold to an English company for £3,200,000, and the Western Railway of Buenos Ayres to a London syndicate for £8,200,000.

Traffic returns for 1889 were much in excess of those of the preceding year. On some lines a block occurred owing to insufficient rolling-stock, although there was an increase of 175 locomotives, 245 carriages and 5,048 goods waggons during the year. It is believed that in 1890 the rolling-stock will be wholly insufficient.

The staff of lines in traffic comprises 30,400 persons, irrespective of thousands of navvies employed on lines in construction. The following table shews the principal features at a glance:—

	Capital. £	Earnings. £
Great Southern....	8,560,000	1,458,000
Western B. Ayres	6,720,000	1,430,000
B. A. and Rosario	8,400,000	1,000,000
Cent. Argentine....	5,240,000	920,000
G. Northern.....	5,400,000	610,000
G. Western	3,400,000	260,000
Pacific	3,350,000	190,000
Santa Fe Colonies	2,000,000	180,000
Ensenada.....	1,200,000	380,000

North. of B. Ayres	600,000	130,000
Various	2,050,000	192,000
Total.....	50,000,000	7,050,000

The above earnings were in a manner imaginary, the dollar being taken at 48 pence, but the average value during the year 1890 being no more than 26 pence. The earnings were, therefore, in reality

The following table shews the net profits, and the ratio to capital:—

	Net profit, £	Per ct. on cap.
G. Southern.....	670,000	7·8
Western B. Ayres.....	470,000	7·0
B. A. and Rosario.....	480,000	5·7
Cent. Argentine.....	330,000	6·3

East Argentine.	6,000	0·6
Andine	37,000	4·2
N. of B. Ayres.....	49,000	8·2
Total.....	2,392,000

The losses on 7 lines were £252,000, leaving a net profit on all lines of £2,140,000, equal to 4¼ per cent (4·28), which is only a poor return for capital.

The passenger and goods traffic shewed thus:

	Passengers.	Tons goods.
G. Southern	1,980,000	930,000
Western B. Ayres	1,950,000	2,100,000
B. A. and Rosario	1,260,000	645,000

N. of B. Ayres.....	2,050,000	430,000
Various	233,000	276,000
Total.....	11,050,000	5,715,000

The number of train-miles run was—

	Miles.	Miles open.
G. Southern	60,040,000	830
Western B. Ayres...	32,600,000	750
B. A. and Rosario...	23,100,000	345

G. Northern.....	15,600,000	690
G. Western	9,700,000	320
Pacific	7,300,000	425
Ensenada	4,200,000	66
Andine	4,100,000	160
S. Fe colonies.....	3,200,000	430
N. of B. Ayres	3,100,000	20
East Argentine.....	1,900,000	97
Various	4,160,000	615
Total.....	186,500,000	5020

It appears from the above that the number of train miles run was something over 500,000 daily.

Ed. Note.—The above train-mileage seems to have one or two cyphers too much.

THE SITUATION.

The market breathed more freely yesterday and greeted the resumption of business with a fall of a score of points in the gold premium. All the banks, merchants' offices, the Bolsa, and shops in the central streets were crowded. The funereal calm that prevailed during the financial Carnival, from the 6th to 12th inst., still lingered in the distant quarters, but the revival of business in the centre was vigorous and general. An immense burden had been removed from the public mind; the bugbear that haunted all in the shape of "curso forzoso" had vanished, and the danger of fresh issues of paper had been averted: all this was implied in the official note that accepted the Patriotic Loan as the immediate solution of the financial difficulty of the moment. No wonder the people heaved a sigh of relief: the people saved the situation through their own pluck and disinterestedness. The Patriotic Loan was their noble protest against the financial policy of the Government, and the success of that loan is tantamount to a public vote of censure that defeats the official schemes of "curso forzoso" and fresh paper issues.

It was apprehended that the resumption of business would entail a great run on the principal cause of the whole panic—the Provincial Bank. The Board of the Bank had made the necessary preparations for the eventuality, and, to prevent too great an agglomeration of people and crush of business, gave orders to open the doors an hour earlier than usual. As the porters opened the doors in Calle San Martin at 9 a.m. it became apparent that the proportions of the run would be relatively insignificant. Mounted policemen were stationed in the street, and a Commissary was present with a picquet in the building. At 11 a.m. the large banking hall was full, say three or four hundred people of the working classes; the deposits were paid out in small notes, for these small depositors prefer them to the large bank-notes. An Italian working man prefers to draw one hundred notes of one dollar each rather than be paid in two fifty-dollar bills; the volume of paper flatters his imagination. At two o'clock the crowd in the hall had diminished considerably and there were certainly not two hundred depositors withdrawing at the counters. Whilst the small depositors were withdrawing on one side, large deposits were given in on the other. One firm sent in over one hundred thousand dollars. The run in fact was of little importance and fell much short of similar experience in the Calle Reconquista in 1876 when the great run on the National Bank took place. The danger is that the present drain in the Calle San Martin may continue, for the recent vicissitudes of the Provincial Bank have been so striking and so consecutive that public confidence is terribly shaken. This is the third time in six years that the Bank has been obliged to appeal for protection to the National Government: it repudiated its notes when in 1885 it was saved by the suspension of specie payments; in March 1890 it exhausted its paper reserves and sought refuge in the never-to-be-forgotten clandestine issues of paper-money; to day again it is in the pillory and would have brought the "curso forzoso" and fresh issues of paper but for the disinterestedness of the market—a market that the Bank has willfully ignored for the last three years That market has saved the bank, but this does not imply that the bank can presume to enjoy the confidence of the people. Such consecutive misfortunes have shaken the financial colossus, and the loss of confidence must entail a withdrawal of savings from the bank. The Bank will be very fortunate if the public refrain from a steady and determined process of liquidation, for the gradual withdrawal of the deposits would imply such an operation. In any other country in the world, such a retrospect and such a melancholy chain of bungling and blundering, would have produced a terrible panic among depositors and riots in the street. But such is the traditional faith in the colossus of the Calle San Martin, that of its thirty or forty thousand depositors, as a rule humble working men, not one thousand ran or their savings yesterday.

The insignificant proportions of the run on the Provincial Bank removed any apprehensions in other banking quarters, for all know where a run begins but nobody can foretell where or when it may end. The day, however, passed off smoothly, and the crowds that filled the private banks were nearly all depositors. The drain on the Provincial Bank created extra pressure in the private banks, where hundred of new accounts had to be opened. The number of new accounts in the private banks has increased enormously, and in view of the present state of affairs it is probable that this operation will continue, to the detriment of both State banks. Both these institutions have lost caste, and it will take years of sound management to restore them to their former prestige: meantime, the private banks must fill their place, and the day is not far distant when branches of the private banks will have to meet the requirements of the rural departments and provinces of the Interior: in this special regard private banking is susceptible of enormous development.

Whilst State banks are in such a sorry plight, tottering under the dire effects of the crisis they have created, the Patriotic Loan is the great pivot of the situation. With the proceeds of this loan the Provincial Bank was enabled to meet the run on its deposits yesterday, but it is understood, on the very best authority, that the Caja de Conversion will only hand to the Bank the funds it may require against tangible guarantees; this assurance is most laudable, as it shows on the part of the Board of the Caja de Conversion a certain determination not to compound with any mismanagement of the Bank; in fact, it looks as if the Bank will soon be under the immediate control of the Conversion Board, and this is perhaps the very best guarantee that could be given to the public. The money that has been subscribed to the Patriotic Loan is more than sufficient for the present needs; the day before the Financial Holidays, H. E. the President of the Republic, declared to an Englishman that fifteen millions would suffice to tide over the situation. The Loan will probably amount to forty millions, and the balance of sixty millions will remain in abeyance for future emergencies that might call for another effort. Up to yesterday the total subscriptions amounted to about 37 millions, including the beggarly amount of two millions scraped up in the ruined provinces of the Interior. It may be here remarked that the province of Buenos Ayres which is chiefly interested in the salvation of its Bank has cut a very sorry figure in the list of subscriptions: this may be explained by the general panic in the rural population which to a man hold all their earnings in the branches of the Provincial Bank. The farmers of Buenos Ayres will never forget the shock to their nerves when they found the doors of the bank's branches in the rural towns closed on the 6th inst: in some towns, it is said, the local managers opened the doors on the 6th and 7th to receive deposits but slammed them back the moment a cheque was presented. In China, they say, no banks smash, and the system of banking there is simply admirable, since bankrupt bankers have been threatened with capital punishment.

LONDON LETTER.

THE HITCH IN THE LONDON AGREEMENT.

(From our own Correspondent.)

Feb. 13

The Times city article of to-day says:—"The markets for Argentine securities have been very depressed during the last few days through a growing want of confidence in the future which is not unnatural under the circumstances, but is not justified by the actual facts to the full extent manifested. Much disappointment and dissatisfaction is felt at the delay in carrying into execution the scheme of London Committee for funding the coupons for three years, a delay which has given rise in some quarters to suspicions that new difficulties have come to light and that special interests are being looked after to the prejudice the bondholders as a whole. We believe these suspicions to be groundless; but whether they are justified or not it should be clearly understood that the delay in settling the matter of the Buenos Ayres Water and Drainage Company does not affect the coupon funding scheme. The two things are entirely distinct. Even if, as some people suggest, the carrying out of the scheme is delayed in the interests of a satisfactory settlement of the Baring liquidation so as to free the guarantors from their obligations, a postponement will have no injurious effect upon the bondholders' interests. They will get their deferred coupon bonds in any case, and should not therefore sacrifice their property in a panic simply because matters are making less progress than was hoped. It appears that those more directly charged with settling affairs between Messrs. Baring and the Argentine Government in respect of the Buenos Ayres Water and Drainage Company have been to some extent at cross purposes, which has complicated matters. At the beginning of last week everything was ready for signature as is now well known, when difficulties were raised we understand by a member of the firm who originated this undertaking. Dr. Plaza and all the others were ready to sign, but one person wished for a postponement which accordingly took place. Subsequently a new difficulty relating to the difference between a disbursement of seven millions and eleven millions of dollars on the works was raised by the Argentine Government, the contractor being enabled to show certificates for only the smaller amount, whereas the larger, we understand, was stated to have been laid out. If this version of the hitch is correct, which we are assured is the case, clearly no blame is attaching to the Argentine Government who, as far as we are cognizant of the facts, have acted in good faith and straightforwardly in both matters.

What you find quoted from the Times is nothing less than a manifesto issued by the high contracting parties to calm a feeling of impatience which has arisen not only in regard to the coupon-funding scheme but in respect to its supposed sequel the conversion of the Cedulas. The impatience seems to have reached the members of the Stock Exchange itself, who talk to-day of addressing all the firms interested in Argentine issues to get information that may be useful in a future and joint action on the part of the stock brokers. The fulness of the Times manifesto almost puts out of date the following notes I had collected. They may, however, have still some interest.

On the 12th inst the Daily News city article says: "International bonds are ⅛ to ¼ better in many cases, but Uruguayan bonds have fallen one point and the market for South American bonds is depressed by the continued tendency on the part of the public to sell Argentine and Brazilian Railway stocks. Dr. Plaza being still away there is nobody to negotiate with, but it is understood that matters will not be allowed to drift without determined efforts to make the best of the situation and to get the Argentine Government to deal frankly with the facts."

"Action" we are told in the matter of Argentine securities has been initiated in a new quarter. Lord Eustace Cecil, the chairman of the Foreign and Colonial Government Trust, the Foreign American and General Investment Trust and the Alliance Investment Company (Limited) has addressed a letter to the chairmen of a number of other Trusts interested in Argentine securities, asking them to meet him to consider the advisability of taking concerted action to protect their interests. The proposed meeting is to be held on the 18th inst.

Messrs. Heinemann and Co. announce that as the coupons due the 1st January and 1st February on the City of Cordoba 6 per cent loans of 1887 and 1889 have not been provided for by the Municipality, they propose taking measures to collect the taxes specially pledged for the service of these loans, and request bondholders to register with them their names and addresses together with the amount of their holdings.

The Times and the Daily News and other leading newspapers are continually printing short paragraphs assuring the public interested in Argentine securities that, notwithstanding the difficulty which has arisen in connection with the adjustment of the Buenos Ayres Water and Drainage Works contracts, the agreement between the London Committee and the Argentine Government will not be affected. That is to say, if the bonds in question are issued, the guaranteeing bankers will make a market for them on condition that the Argentine Government behaves fairly. As an amusing instance of the estimation in which that Government is held here by mere paragraph writers in the minor press we are told that when a well-known banker interested in London and River Plate affairs wrote to the Argentine Government that he would much prefer that instead of a 2 per cent. tax upon banking deposits they should levy a 10 per cent tax upon bank profits, the Government said: "Very well; then we will put a 10 per cent tax upon profits in addition to the 2 per cent upon deposits."

PARIS LETTER.

(From our own Correspondent.)

February 14th

When Cardinal Lavigerie sounded that key note of political sagacity, that the moment had arrived for the French clergy to rally to the republican form of Government as adopted and sanctioned over and over again by the nation, of course he well knew that the monarchists would not tacitly recognize their extinction. Pamphlets and newspapers entered the list; no very great importance was attached to this expected flying to arms. However, when the monarchists, that is to say the Orleanists, decided to stump the country, and M. d'Haussonville, the representative and intimate friend of the Comte de Paris, was delegated to open the ball at Nimes, the hottest royalist quarter of France, the issue raised by the Cardinal exacts attention.

M. d'Haussonville's mission briefly was to impress on his sympathizers not to despond and for Catholics not to adhere to Cardinal Lavigerie's counsel. At the pace the country is closing round for the defence of the present form of Government, belief in royalty must soon become an individual faith or a family, an hereditary creed. The grand argument with the monarchists was that they only could be conservatives. The masses have had the last scale removed from their eyes respecting that claim by the spectacle of the Comte de Paris making common cause with Boulanger and his helter-skelter following. One of the most conspicuous advocates of the royalist alliance with the "brav general" was M. d'Haussonville himself. He now assures Cardinal Lavigerie that "neither honor nor conscience" will permit the royalists to rally to the republic, though in 1875 he voted with the monarchist M. Wallon in favor of the constitution of France being henceforth republican.

M. d'Haussonville is well aware that he and some other leading monarchists have by the r acts, votes, and words within the last fifteen years rendered their evolution towards the republic, even were they so inclined to, totally impossible. They have been the official and officious emissaries of Orleanism; they are too committed to be accepted as converts. They are not political scarlet-dyed sins that will be made as white as snow. Nor is it to such that Cardinal Lavigerie appeals, but to Catholics having no royalist faith, and who are rocked and lulled in the delusion that only the monarchists are the defenders of religion. His Eminence puts his foot down on that equivocation, by means of which a political party trades on religion, thereby injuring and degrading it in the eyes of France.

The French bishops now conclude that they are as capable to look after what is advantageous to them as are the royalists. Let each then mind their own affairs. The interests of Catholicism must not be confounded with the ups and downs of pretenders or dynasties; so think the bishops, and so conclude the voters, who at every election fall away from candidates who have not the courage to avow they are royalists, and put their flag in their pocket. There are about seventeen irreconcileable monarchists in the Chamber; public opinion respects their loyalty. But the others? There are now twelve vacancies for the Senate and the Chamber of Deputies; there is nothing to prevent adherents of the Comte de Paris to come forward, frankly avow themselves anti-republicans and abide by the hazard of the die. France has her ambassador at the Vatican and receives reciprocally a Papal Nuncio; her government names and selects the bishops, but it has nothing to do with the choosing of the leaders of the played-out dynasties. His Holiness has, with his usual perspicacity, comprehended the danger that Catholicism ran by allying itself with the old political parties, as evidenced in the famous discourse he authorized Cardinal Lavigerie to pronounce. The visit of Deputy Pion to Rome, and his reception by the Pope, is another condemnation of M. d'Haussonville. M. Pion accedes from the royalists, but at same time he will not go over to the republicans, he and his small following will apparently sit on the fence, and will work not for any party but for France. He will bow to universal suffrage, that alone keeps the keys of the house. It has in these latter times clearly and unmistakably spoken and will continue to re-ratify its verdict, if not destroyed by a coup d'Etat or an invasion.

A quasi-political event was the marriage of Victor Hugo's daughter, Jeanne, of whom he wrote: "She left home with a tear and returned with a smile," with the son of Alphonse Daudet, the novelist and dramatist. Hugo doated on his two grandchildren and has immortalized them in his "Art d'être grand-père." He held that it was a foretaste of Paradise, could parents be always young, and children ever little. Hugo was once royalist but swung round to republicanism. Daudet is a royalist, and I believe Calvinist, and comes from Nimes. He commenced life as an assistant to a schoolmaster, then came to Paris to seek—and what he made—his fortune, has three sons and two daughters, and it is the eldest son, Leon, who has won the hand of Mlle. Hugo. The bridegroom is a doctor, but has no fortune; his wife brings him some £2,000 a year, her portion of her grandpapa's wealth. She is in her 22nd year of age, handsome, with an English girl's ruddiness of features; dark brown hair black, humorous and roguish eyes. She ought to make a good wife. French girls generally do.

The marriage was a republican high-life one. But really it was a posthumous ovation to Victor Hugo. The leading republicans mustered in full force; the Ministers were present too. Daudet has been honoured by the presence of distinguished members of the literary world, but the royalists did not come to bless the proceedings. It was a civil marriage, celebrated at the Passy Mayoralty. The office and corridors were luxuriously decorated with flowers, shrubs, tapestry, etc. A band of sixty musicians executed a propos morceaux, the chief being Saint Saens's "Hymn to Victor Hugo." It was the expressed wish of the poet that the grandchildren, if married, should be united by the Mayor or Registrar. It was difficult to know what religion, if any, Hugo professed. He was strong on Deism. He had an idea that he himself was a cult. Perhaps, like Ernest Renan, he was occupied "pegging away" at the manufacture of some new creed. The crowd of invités was immense, and the magnificence of the affair appears to have given umbrage to republicans of the Spartan order. The absence of Madame Carnot was not so much remarked as commented upon.

The Free Traders are very anxious for the dicussion upon the new Customs' tariffs to come off; they hope to snatch some concessions from the protectionists. Vain hope! The resolution of the country is firm, to wrap itself up in self-interest; keep out all that can affect home economy, and compel the stranger to purchase the national products as dearly as possible, and by fixed treaty of concession for concession.

The Tribunal of Marseilles has made an important ruling. A man and wife had their suit for divorce before the Court; since two months they had lived apart; during this period his wife was confined of a son, and being a Protestant she had the child baptised by a Protestant clergyman. The husband, a Catholic, demanded that the baby be baptized by a Catholic clergyman. The judges ruled that they were not occupied with ecclesiastical matters, nor did they intend to examine the doctrines of baptism; the child had been baptized without the father's knowledge, his legal authority ignored, and consequently the child must be baptized in the parish church, and following the rites of the religion of its father.

SIR EDWARD MONSON ON GREEK.

The learned diplomatist who was for some years British Minister in Buenos Ayres has published the following interesting letter in the Times:

Sir,—

I have read with great interest the account of the discussion initiated by Dr. Welldon at the Conference of Head Masters as to the study of Greek; and also the correspondence which has subsequently been published in your columns on the subject.

I have no pretension to express any opinion of my own in regard to the points at issue. The object of my writing to you is to draw attention to a cognate matter, the serious consideration of which appears to me to befit the present occasion.

Since my official duties made me a resident in this country I have been continually more and more impressed with the strangeness of the fact that the proper pronounciation of ancient Greek is a question to which so little attention has been given by English scholarship. Year after year distinguished University men arrive in Athens, and, with the increased facilities for locomotion now at their disposal, extend their tour to every spot where modern research has discovered traces of classic art and architecture. They come with memories well stocked with the results of their study of what they have been taught to treat as a "dead" language, and wander through a country with whose inhabitants they are unable to converse, but to whom their tongues would very soon be loosed, were it not that the traditions of Desiderius Erasmus have for more than three centuries and a half perverted the original pronunciation of Greek into a usage founded upon the respective sounds of the vernacular of the country in which the ancient language is taught.

I do not deny that, in spite of so great a disadvantage, any foreigner who happens to be a good (ancient) Greek scholar will be able with a little steady application to acquire in a comparatively short time considerable fluency in modern Greek; but I cannot but think it much to be lamented that, inasmuch as that modern Greek differs so slightly in structure from the language in use at the commencement of the Christian era as to make the perusal of a Greek newspaper a by no means difficult task to the ordinary scholar, our great centres of learning and education should continue to remain indifferent to the question of the expediency of a change in the pronunciation inculcated.

A thorough exposition of all that can be said in favour of such a change is beyond my competence, had I either the leisure to devote to it or the presumption to seek publication for it in The Times. Abler pens than mine will perhaps be induced by this hint to place the subject fairly before the public. To those (and I am sure they are many even in our great Universities) who have never given it a thought, I commend the study of a pamphlet by Miss E. A. S. Dawes on "The Pronunciation of Greek," published by D. Nutt, in 1889.

Standing by the coffin which contained the mortal remains of that remarkable enthusiast Dr. Schliemann, and listening to the various eloquent sketches of his life and attainments delivered by appreciative orators in Greek, in German, and in English over his grave, I could not but be carried way by the thought of the intensity with which in his early years the poor uneducated student had clothed with vitality the traditions of a prehistoric age, and had devoted his long and successful life to the labour of presenting those traditions to modern acceptance, backed by all the arguments which local research enabled him to supply; and I recollected this extraordinary man, in his enthusiasm for the classic past, made it a practice to cultivate in his family circle the employment of the ancient as well as the modern tongue. Such linguistic powers as Dr. Schliemann possessed are, of course, exceptional; but is it not within the power of modern study to breathe life into a language which has only been killed by a mistaken, perhaps originally a jocular, pedantry, which it is, indeed, an error even to characterize as dead, and which in its modern form is yearly acquiring greater purity and elegance? I cannot but think that if those who so strenuously advocate the preservation of the study of Greek in our schools and colleges would reinforce their arguments by recommending the adoption of the change now suggested, they would establish a strong claim in favour of their views on the ground of practical utility alone, to say nothing of that which they might base upon purely scholastic pretensions.

Your obedient servant,
Edmund Monson.

LADIES' CLUB.

Mr. Editor,

Allow me to offer a suggestion as regards the Ladies' Club. The welfare of such an institution will depend in a very great measure, if not principally, on its 'locus in quo.' If in the neighbourhood of such shops as the Progreso, Ciudad de Londres, Merceria Alemana, etc., etc., it will suit every member of the club; if established in the Literary Society building, only those who come from distant places, such as Flores and Temperley. Ladies residing in town will always be as near to their own homes as to the Literary Society.

Now the place of places for it would be the Club de Residentes Estranjeros in Calle Victoria; and as most of the married ladies' husbands belong to it, if disposed to club together, no doubt a "modus vivendi" could be established between them of which pleasure and profit would be the result. So mote it be.

Yours truly,
Benedict.

STARVING EMIGRANTS IN BRAZIL

M. Dygasinski, a Polish writer, who some time ago went as special correspondent of the Warsaw Courier to Brazil, returned to Vienna on Tuesday from his trip, after visiting the provinces of Sao Paulo, Parana, and Santa Catharina. The Government of the Republic threw every obstacle in his way in order to prevent him from ascertaining the truth with regard to the emigration question. In spite of all difficulties he has, however, succeeded in accomplishing his task, and his reports, which are full of harrowing details, may be summarized as follows:—

The Brazilian Government has decided to import ten million emigrants. The Norddeutscher Lloyd has up to now landed 140,000 peasants, receiving for them 300 marks per head. These emigrants are not allowed to found colonies, but are spread in small groups of about fifty people over the plantations and forests of the interior provinces. There they are simply left to their fate; being unprovided with food or the necessary implements, they die of hunger, yellow fever, and snake bites, or are devoured by wild beasts. They are cut off from all communication with the outer world, and have not even the means of sending letters to their friends in Europe. Driven by utter starvation those who survive eventually retrace their steps to Rio de Janeiro, begging their sustenance from the planters who treat them like slaves, and exact an exorbitant amount of work for a few scanty meals. At Rio Grande, M. Dygasinski found 700 emigrants in a dying state huddled together in a small wooden chapel, while thousands of these unfortunate people were camping in the streets of the towns through which he passed, or, worse still, in primeval forests.

The German authorities at Bremen have instituted an inquiry into this matter, but hitherto without deterrent effect on the shipping companies, for all the emigration offices at that port remain open day and night, and are crowded with intending emigrants, who are embarked at night. M. Dygasinski has stated his experiences under oath to the judicial functionary at Bremen, who conducts the preliminary investigation into the charge preferred against the Norddeutscher Lloyd The editor of the Warsaw Courier invites contributions towards a repatriation fund, adding that his special correspondent has been implored by thousands of emigrants to see that they are "ransomed" and sent back to their country.

Railway Items.

Letters have been received reporting considerable damage occasioned by the recent rain on the Southern Railway between Alfalfa and Tornquist. Two kilometres of line and three culverts were damaged, and pasengers were compelled to walk a distance of 20 squares. The losses in the Alfalfa colony are estimated at 30,000 dollars.

Large quantities of wheat are coming down from the Interior by the Sunchales Railway.

The Minister of the Interior has asked the Public Works' Department to furnish him with full particulars of the guaranteed Railways now being worked in the Republic, and especially of the amount per kil. of the guarantee and the amount received per annum from each line.

The Accountant General has liquidated in favor of Messrs Lucas Gonzalez and Co. the sum of 283,790 dollars oro sellado for work executed on the prolongation and branches of the Central Northern.

The Governor of Jujuy has informed the Minister of the Interior that since the railroads from Chilcas to the Capitals of that Province and of Salta has been opened, no benefit has been derived therefrom in consequence of the inconvenient hours at which the trains run. As a matter of fact, it takes two days to go from Tucuman to Jujuy (including the night passed at Chilcas) and three days to go the same distance by the train starting on Sundays. This defect could be easily remedied by a more rational arrangement, and by shorter stoppages at intermediate stations.

POR LOS MISMOS,
Grandioso y Excepcional Remate en la Region del Trigo.

Las mejores tierras de la Provincia de Santa Fe, la floreciente Colonia "Ceres" sobre la estacion del mismo nombre del gran Ferro-Carril de Buenos Aires al Rosario y Tucuman, dista solamente nueve horas del puerto del Rosario, con un nucleo de quinientos pobladores con una capa de tierra vejetal de noventa centimetros de espesor y agua potable a tres metros de profundidad dividida en Chacras quintas y solares por orden y cuenta de la Sociedad Colonizadora Argentina 1,000 chacras de 25 hectareas cada una, 20 quintas de 3 hectareas cada una, 150 solares del pueblo de 800 metros cuadrados cada uno, Sin Base! por lo que den sin base! Condiciones ventajorisimas para el pago. 1/3 parte al contado, el resto con tres años de plazo, pagaderos por anualidades con el 7 o/o de interes anual.

Escrituras matrices gratis.

La venta se efectuara sobre los mismo terrenos

El Domingo 29 de Marzo,
a las 11 de la mañana.

Remataremos a la mas alta postura dinero de contado por orden y cuenta de la "Sociedad Colonizadora Argentina" las tierras de la Colonia arriba mencionada que se componen de mil chacras de 25 hectareas cada una veinte quintas de 3 chacras cada una, ciento cincuenta solares en el pueblo de 800 metros cuadrados cada uno.

Las tierras que ofrecemos en venta de esta Colonia son de las mejores de la Provincia por su inmejorable posicion como por la fertilidad de las mismas.

La Colonia "Ceres" esta convenientemente dividida en pueblo con sus solares, quintas y chacras, terreno muy alto y llano y esta cubierto en su mayor parte de pastos fuertes con algunos islotes de bosques cuyas maderas son quebracho, ñandubay, algarrobo, etc. etc. La capa de tierra vejetal es de noventa centimetros de espesor, encontrandose agua potable excelente a tres metros de profundidad. Su excelente situacion es de enorme ventaja pecuniaria para los agricultores pues queda sobre el gran Ferro Carril de Buenos Aires al Rosario, prolongacion de Sunchales a Tucuman, y tiene su Estacion propia del mismo nombre (Ceres) en el centro de la colonia la cual solo dista nueve horas del gran puerto del Rosario, lo que facilita y abarata el transporte y flete de sus productos

Llamamos preferentemente la atencion sobre esta venta de los agricultores e inmigrantes que deseosos de labrarse un porvenir seguro y de resultados efectivos buscan en que colocar sus pequeños capitales para que ayuden los por su trabajo personal les de una ganancia suficiente para el sosten de los suyos y al mismo tiempo una pequeña utilidad para ahorro, base y cimiento a una fortuna que se va agrandando y consolidando con los años; pues es sabido que en nuestro pais las principales fortunas tienen por origen la ganaderia y agricultura.

Tenemos que hacerle presente que la colonia "Ceres" cuenta ya con un nucleo de mas de quinientos pobladores que es un elocuente mas para los nuevos agricultores al mismo tiempo de ser una gran ventaja, pues no carecen de este modo de los articulos de primera necesidad ni estan espuestos a las penurias de un campo frontezizo a poblar.

Por ultimo, y sobre este punto llamamos la especial atencion de las personas que deseen adquirir tierras de la mencionada colonia y las cuales carecen de capital suficiente para ello; pues con una insignificancia pueden hacerse propietarios de las mejores tierras de la Provincia de Santa Fe, llamada con sobrada razon "La Region del Trigo" en vista de las condiciones excepcionales y grandes facilidades para el pago.

La venta se efectuara sin base alguna en lotes a gusto de los compradores, los cuales al firmar el boleto pagaran la tercera parte del importe tot l de sus compras al contado, abonando el resto en plazo de tres años por anualidades con el 7 o/o de interes anual; creemos que rara vez se les presenta oportunidad igual para la adquisicion de tierras de tal magnitud, lo cual no deben perder de vista.

For Sale,
A Property in Villa Devoto.

The flourishing village of Villa Devoto is within the Municipality of the Capital, twenty squares to the South West of Belgrano, adjoins the village of Catalinas and is situated on one of the highest points near the Capital. It has 3 roads to the centre of Buenos Ayres, i.e. the Pacific Railway's per Devoto Station, the Rosario Railway's per Villa Catalinas Station and the Rural Tramway which intercepts the village. It also has coach roads to Buenos Ayres via Belgrano and Flores.

The property consists of 7,000 square varas of splendid land fronting on the Calles Chicago, Viena and Roma, with a chalet, stables, wells, algibes, etc. The Chalet is recently built (scarcely finished,) and has every possible convenience. It has 2 rooms in the basement, entrance Hall, vestibule, study, drawing-room, dining-room, gallery, kitchen, pantry, 2 wcs. and lavatory on the ground floor, a splendid stair case leading to the upper storey which contains 5 bedrooms with free communication, a pretty boudoir, bath room and balcony; there is also a large upper room for servants.

The house is built on the most approved and modern plan, all the ceilings are papered, double plate glass windows, tiled bath room, painted in oil, lavatory with hot and cold water, a most perfect system of drainage—in a word every comfort that could possibly be desired.

The coachhouse contains 3 stalls, large coach room, W.C., gardener's room with kitchen and 2 bedrooms. Can be seen at any time. For full particulars apply to 808 Suipacha, Buenos Aires, any working day from 3 to 6 p.m.

which the negotiations had been conducted for the sale to the new Company in accordance with the decree of Government when granting the 5 per cent guarantee last year. He concluding by asserting that in the hands of such practical men as Chavanne and Schwartz the mine which he had inspected some six years ago and found immensely rich in all kinds of minerals must prove a brilliant business and the only real cure for the crisis. (Cheers.) The Chairman rose at 5.30 p.m. after the unanimous approval of the deed of sale.

The President of the Banco Colonizador Nacional has asked the Finance Minister to approve the alterations in the Statutes of the Bank.

Several estancieros of Santa Cruz have addressed the Minister of the Interior asking him to order the Public Works Department to excavate wells in the Patagonian Austral as it appears that heavy ravages have been recently made amongst the herds some 30 leagues from the Rio Negro by reason of drought.

With regard to the loan it was estimated that about 1½ millions were collected today by the Caja de Conversion and the Bolsa, exclusive of the amounts taken by the committees and which had not yet been rendered. The Province of Buenos Aires has subscribed up to the present about 1½ millions, though probably this amount will be freshly increased by Saturday. In all the loan is calculated to fall very little short of 40 millions.

At a late hour to-day it was known that the President of the Republic will not interfere with the date fixed for the elections for Senators for this city. A petition is about to be presented by a number of members of the old National Party to have the elections postponed as illegal, but it seems the President is averse to taking this course. We give the news for what it is worth, especially as all reports of this kind are supposed to be pregnant with interest at present.

The Government has appointed a Committee to investigate the question of patents for inventions and trade marks, and to draw up necessary amendments in the existing laws.

The following is the text of the Decree of the Patriotic Loan as issued by the Caja de Conversion :

1st—In compliance with the decree of the National Government dated 8th inst an internal National loan of 100 million dollars is opened to the public in bonds of 6 o/o interest and 2 o/o amortization annual accumulative at the following places :

Caja de Conversion.
Camara Sindical.
Private Banks.

The Camara Sindical and the banks will give provisional receipts which will afterwards be exchanged for certificates of the Caja de Conversion.

2nd The 10th, 11th and 12th inst are hereby designated for the purpose, the lists to be closed on latter day at 6 p.m.

3rd— During these three days subscribers will receive the bonds at 75 per cent, but afterwards the Caja de Conversion will fix the rate which must not be lower than 80.

4th—The conditions of payment are :—
25 per cent cash on subscribing.
25 per cent on or before April 2nd.
25 per cent on or before May 2nd, thus making 75 per cent for every bond of 100 dollars delivered.

5th—Payments can be anticipated, getting the usual discount, computed at 8 per cent per annum.

6th—Provisional nominal certificates for the value subscribed will be issued and will be transferrable by simple endorsement, the holder of the certificates being always responsible for its obligations and liabilities.

7th—If any of the quotas be not paid on maturity all those previously paid are "ipso facto" considered lost.

8th—In case the amount be over-subscribed, allotments will be made to all subscribers in equal proportions.

9th—By Art. 10th of decree in case the Government should consider the amount subscribed insufficient for the requirements, the Executive will declare the loan without effect, and all the sums subscribed will be returned by the Caja de Conversion.

Manuel A. Aguirre.
President
Alberto Aubone
Secretary.

COOPER'S
Sheep Dipping Powders

Give the same result all the world over.

It is the only dip used by the British Government.

It is officially reported upon by the South African Government as the best dip.

It has beaten every other dip in public competition at Hawke's Bay, New Zealand.

At the London Wool Sales Cooper's Dip Wools always realise the highest prices, and the Tasmanian Wool Growers Agency Co. officially report to this effect.

Wolseley Sheep Shearing Machine Company, limited.

Cabaña del Rincon,
Propiedad del Señor Don Tomas Bell,
Estacion Pereira, 18th Sept. 1890.

Messrs. Agar Cross & Co.

Dear Sirs,

I have great pleasure in reporting favourably of your "Wolseley Sheep Shearing Machine," Up to date we have shorn upwards of 300 Lincoln Rams and Borregas, and find it quite up to our expectations. It is simple and easily handled, and in no way complicated or difficult to understand or work, and so far it has never been out of order. It shears the sheep beautifully it does them quicker and considerably better than it is possible to get them done by hand, and saves the poor animal a great amount of abuse.

I have timed our Amateur Shearer here, and find he can shear upwards of eight in the hour. Consequently, I consider the Wolseley Machine one of the best patents I have yet seen, in proof of which I intend having some more put up at an early date.

Yours very truly,
WILLIAM RIDDICK.

Dr. J. Collis Browne's
CHLORODYNE.

THE ORIGINAL AND ONLY GENUINE!

Advice to Invalids.—If you wish to obtain quiet refreshing sleep, free from headache, relief from pain and and anguish, to calm and assuage the weary achings of protracted disease, invigorate the nervous media and regulate the circulating systems of the body, you will provide yourself with that marvellous remedy discovered by D. J. Collis Brown, (late Army Medical Staff), to which he gave the name of CHLORODYNE, and which is admitted by the profession to be the most wonderful and valuable remedy ever discovered.

CHLORODYNE is the best remedy known for Coughs, Consumption, Bronchitis, Asthma.

CHLORODYNE acts like a charm in Diarrhœa, and is the only specific in Cholera and Dysentery.

CHLORODYNE effectually cuts short all attacks of Epilepsy, Hysteria, Palpitation, and Spasms.

CHLORODYNE is the only palliative in Neuralgia, Rheumatism, Gout, Cancer, Toothache, Meningitis, &c.

From Symes & Co., Pharmaceutical Chemists, Medical Hall, Simla, Januar 5 1880. To J. T. Davenport, Esq., 33, Great Russel Street, Bloomsbury, London. Dear Sir,—We embrace this opportunity of congratulating you upon the widespread reputation this justly esteemed medecine, Dr. J. Collis Browne's Chlorodyne, has earned for itself, not only in Hindostan; but all over the East. As a remedy for general utility, we must question wether a better is imported into the country, and we shall be glad to hear of its finding a place in every Anglo-Indian home. The other brands, we are so sorry to say, are now relegated to the native bazaars, and, judging from their sale, we fancy their sojourn there will be but evanescent. we could multiply instances "ad infinitum" of the extraordinary efficacy of Dr. Collis Browne's Chlorodyne in Diarrhœa and Dysentery, Sapasms, Crampas, Neuralgia, the Vomiting of Pregnancy, and as a general sedative that have occurred under our personal observation during many years. In Choleraic Diarrhœa, and even in the more terrible forms of Cholera itself, we have witnessed its surprisingly controlling power. We have never used any other form of this medicine than Collis Browne's from a firm Conviction that it is decidedly the best, and also from a sense of duty we owe to the profession and the public, as we are of opinion that the substitution of any other than Collis Browne's is a deliberate Breach of Faith on the part of the Chemist to prescribe and Patient alike. We are, Sir, faithfully yours, Symes and Co., Members of he Pharm. Society of Great Britain. His Excellency the Viceroy's Chemists

Caution.—Vice-Chancellor Sir W. Page Wood stated that Dr J Collis Browne, was, undoubtedly, the Inventor of Chlorodine; that the story of the defendant Freeman was deliberately untrue, which he regretted to say, had been sworn to.—See The Times," July 13, 1864.

Sold in bottles at 1s. 1 1/2d., 2s. 9d., 4s. 6d., and 11s. each. None is genuine without the words "Dr. J. Collis Browne's Chlorodyne" on the Government stamp. Overwhelming medical testimony accompanies each bottle.

Caution.—Beware of Piracy and Imitations.

THE
Pierce Artesian Well Co.
of New York

Has exclusive control of the patents obtained by CHARLES D. PIERCE, by which wells are drilled with a rapidity unattained by any other system.

The Company has recently received from its factory, the celebrated PIERCE IRON WORKS, New York, several powerful steam well drilling machines and a quantity of extra heavy drive pipe specially made for the Plate. No pipe of this quality has ever been imported here before. It will not "telescope" nor break.

These machines are in charge of experienced North American well engineers specially sent by the Co.

Contracts taken for wells from 30 to 1,000 metres depth, for water or petroleum; water supply for Railways. Factories, Estancias, etc; soundings for minerals, etc etc.
